THE NEXT PRESIDENCY.—Speaking of the vote in New York, at the recent election, the Free Democrat of yesterday says:

This result indicates New York as certain as Vermont for the Republican nominee for the Presidency, and for no nominee more certain than for W. H. Seward. We have not ourself heretofore looked upon Mr. Seward as the probable nominee of the Republican National Convention, but begin to think it very probable that the South and its allies, the northern democracy, by their brutal and senseless abuse of him will force him into that attitude, which, if they accomplish, they may rest most certainly assured will make him the President for the next four years.

NO HOPE FOR JOHN BROWN.—The following letter from Gov. WISE, was received by Rev. WILLIAM C. WHITCOMB, of Lynnfield, Mass., in answer to an earnest appeal that the life of JOHN BROWN may be spared:

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 17, 1859.

REV. SIR:—The very sympathy with John Brown, so general, so fanatical, so regardless of social safety, and so irreverent of the reign of law, demands his execution, if sentenced by the Courts. The laws he insulted and outraged, are now protecting all his rights of defense, and all his claims to mercy.

Truly yours, HENRY A. WISE.
Rev. WM. C. WHITCOMB.

PERSONAL.—There is a rumor printed in the Eastern papers, that DAN SICKLES and his wife will take up their residence in Washington after the opening of the next session. The Buffalo Republic calls this move one of "exceedingly refreshing impudence," and wonders how the fashionables of the Capital will receive them.

ANOTHER REPUBLICAN ASSEMBLYMAN.—ASAPH WHITTLESEY, Republican, is elected from the St. Croix district; La Pointe and Douglas counties having given him 127 majority. This gives the Republicans 19 majority in the Assembly and 23 on joint ballot.

ANTIQUARIAN FESTIVAL.—The good folks of Grand Rapids are getting up what they call an Antiquarian Festival, at which they will sing antiquated songs in primitive dresses, and the proceeds to be appropriated to the Orphan Asylum.

PERSONAL.—We learn that the Rev. O. O. STEARNS, of Racine, has accepted a call from the Baptists in Winona, and will preach in their church next Sunday, entering upon his duties as regular pastor from that time.

EFFORTS are being made to establish a public library in Eau Claire.

REV. W. A. BARTLETT REFUSES TO OPEN HIS CHURCH ON THANKSGIVING DAY.—We find the following in the New York Times of the 24th:

Rev. W. A. Bartlett, pastor of the Brooklyn Tabernacle, refuses to open his church for service to-day. The reasons of his action were fully set forth by himself at the opening of the services in his church on last Sunday evening, when he announced that that place would not be opened on Thanksgiving Day for divine worship, for several reasons. Not that he disliked the idea of filling one day full of thankfulness to God—the whole three hundred and sixty-five days should be thankfulness—but he did not consider a sermon the best preparation for a feast. People endure the infliction for the sake of the turkey at its close. Then my experience has been, (continued the speaker,) that preachers use this day as a safety valve to give escapement to notions about politics and governmental matters of which they generally know but little. They say bitter things and foreign things which they dare not utter on the Sabbath. I have no occasion for the day on this account, for I generally express at any service all I desire to, unminced.—Thanksgiving sermons are generally apples of discord thrown into the enjoyment, and the people, after the services, assemble in families and small cliques to wrangle over them, and thanksgiving to God ends in a quarrel between men. Let praise and joy and happiness abound, (he continued;) let it be a day of joyous, festival thankfulness to the good Giver of all delights.

DO YOU KNOW WHY YOU WINK?—The Boston Evening Gazette thus learnedly replies to this query:

"The contact of the air with the eye causes a loss of temperature by evaporation, and the sensation caused by the dryness, urgently insisting on being remedied, we wink."

FLOGGING ABOLISHED IN THE MASSACHUSETTS STATE PRISON.—The Boston Journal, of Nov. 22, says:

Yesterday the House of Representatives, on motion of Mr. Hinckley, of Barnstable, abolished the provision of law authorizing flogging in the State Prison. Mr. Kimball, of Boston, and Mr. Goodwin, of Lowell, advocated the change. The latter gentleman, who is Chairman of the Board of Inspectors of the Prison, stated that not a blow had been inflicted there for nearly three years, which comprised the terms of office of Wardens Porter and Haynes. There was but little opposition to the repeal of the law.

ACCORDING to the Washington Constitution, President Buchanan, in his letter of acceptance in 1856, made a bull which would do credit to one of his greenest constituents from the Green Isle. The Constitution says that when Mr. Buchanan said that the people of a Territory, like those of a State, should determine the question for themselves whether they would have slavery or not—he meant when the Territory formed its State Constitution. That is, when a people of a Territory are a people of a State.

BLOWN DOWN.—A very strong frame of a two-story dwelling erecting near the High School building, for Platt Eycleshimer, was blown down on Friday afternoon, about 5 o'clock. The workmen were in a barn near by, getting out other work, when the frame fell. A. M. Pratt is the contractor, and the loss to him is $300.—Janesville Gazette, 28th.

ERICKSON, the Norwegian who escaped from the Janesville jail a short time since, returned to his old quarters Friday evening, and asked for admission. He says he had rather take his chances of proving his innocence on a trial than skulk as a fugitive about the country.

Further Damage by the Gale in Chicago.

The fury of the gale night before last was felt with terrible power in all parts of the city. Both frame and brick buildings, in exposed situations, were rocked like frail cradles, on their foundations. Roofs were blown off, chimneys blown down, windows blown out, and fences and outhouses scattered in fragments over the ground. The greatest disaster was the destruction of the new music hall erecting by Mr. Bryan. The loss, not including the value of the bricks, is about $4,000. The mason work was under contract to Mr. Charles Daglish, and the carpenter work to Mr. John Sollit. The south wall is still standing, apparently uninjured.

The new church edifice, building for the Scotch Reformed Presbyterian Society, on Carroll street, West Side, was utterly demolished. The walls were of brick and had reached a height of about thirty feet. Loss from $1,200 to $1,500, which probably falls upon the contractor. This society, it will be remembered, suffered the loss of their church building in the great fire last September.

On West Madison street, between Hays street and Lyons road, the frames of a new row of three dwelling houses were blown down. Not even the sills were left upon their foundations. The frames were not completed—only the upright and first floor joists being yet in their places. The lumber was much broken in the crash, and the damage probably is not less than $300 or $400.

Two houses on West Twelfth street were unroofed, and a number of sheds, and a large amount of fencing on the same street was destroyed.

The cupola on the City Hospital was blown off; and the tin roofing of the same building was badly ripped to pieces.

A covered wagon attempted to cross Washington street, on Clark near the commencement of the gale. In an instant the wagon was rolled over and over by the wind. The horse, who was broken loose, saved himself by running away, while the driver, who fortunately was unhurt, took the nearest place of safety.

On the North branch, near Chicago avenue bridge a canal boat was blown entirely off the stocks. Three freight cars were also blown from the Michigan Southern track near the south switch.

The bell ringer deserted his post in the court-house cupola. He stated that the force of the wind was such as to make that structure sway in an alarming manner, rendering it dangerous to remain there.

The Railroad Mission chapel, on Griswold street, was struck by lightning during the storm, knocking down the stove-pipe, and slightly injuring the ridge pole.

At Harlem and Junction station, on the Galena and Chicago Union railway, the water-works belonging to the company were blown down.

From the Michigan coast we shall doubtless soon hear of serious damage to the shipping which chanced to be caught out in a gale. It was the severest hurricane by which Chicago has been visited since the fall of 1856, when so many brick buildings were blown down.—Chicago Times, 27th.

THE PORT HURON TRAGEDY.—The tragedy recently enacted at Port Huron was consummated on Wednesday night by the death of one of the actors. Dr. Freund expired from the effects of the wounds received at the hands of McGee, the husband of the woman with whom he was detected, and McGee is held to answer the charge of murder. The circumstances are familiar to our readers from their recent occurrence, and nothing new has transpired since, the only error being in regard to the serious nature of the wounds inflicted by the pistol shot. These were much worse than was represented. McGee fired both barrels of his pistol at once, and the charges, containing two balls each, were lodged in Freund's thighs. The victim was sitting on the bed at the time. After firing the pistol McGee sprang from under the bed and knocked the wounded man down, and rushed out of the house to give the alarm.

The deceased maintained that he visited the house on business, desiring to negotiate for the purchase of a lot for church purposes. The Commercial, of that place, states that, when the neighbors went to his assistance, both himself and the female were en dishabille, which proved little in favor of his innocence. There seems no doubt that the case was one of flagrant violation of propriety, and the character which both parties sustained favors this impression. The woman has for some time been an object of suspicion, and the deceased was notoriously derelict, although he had lately contrived to associate himself with a religious organization. McGee gave securities in the sum of $2,000 for his appearance for examination and trial.—Detroit Free Press, Nov. 26th.

THE SUGAR CROP.—The New Orleans Picayune of the 19th says: "The damage to the sugar crop by the late frosts is reported to us, from the country, as much greater than was first supposed. Had the summer weather which followed continued, the effects would have been even more disastrous. The change to cooler weather again is favorable to grinding; but our accounts from the best authorities in the sugar parishes, state the damage already done as extensively serious."

The Crescent of the 18th, as part of "talk on 'Change," gives the following: "Sugar freights are scarce and likely to continue so this season, as nearly all the sugar that will be made this season will be required for the Western trade. There were further accounts from the coast, above and below. The talk was that 200,000 to 220,000 hogsheads will be the extent of the crop, say about half a crop. The recent frost and cold weather has finished the cane for this season. The borer is also making progress.

SINGULAR CASE OF SOMNAMBULISM.—The English papers record a most singular case of somnambulism. A young girl, thirteen years of age, a pupil at a boarding school, arose in her sleep and slipped on a pair of shoes and a dress, over her night dress, and without any other clothing left the house and started for her home, some eight miles distant. When found, she had walked a distance of seven miles, and was still perfectly unconscious. Before leaving the house the child first attempted to get out at the front door, the chain and bolt of which were found unfastened, but the door was double-locked, and the lock goes so stiffly that her hands could not turn the key. She then appears to have gone to the back of the house and made her exit in that way through a garden. She afterwards suffered a little from weakness, but experienced no other ill effects from her singular moonlight walk in the frosty air.

LA CROSSE ITEMS.—We copy from the La Crosse Daily Union, of Nov. 26, the following items:

MINNESOTA WHEAT.—Nearly all the wheat in market yesterday came over from a distance of sixty miles in Minnesota. Farmers from that region report nine-tenths of the grain still untouched. Our lowest estimate of wheat that will be shipped to La Crosse from Minnesota this winter, is one hundred thousand bushels.

TABLES TURNED.—Heretofore our Dubuque and Dunleith friends have rejoiced over two or three weeks of navigation after the ice had closed on St. Paul. For the last ten days boats have been running regularly between St. Paul and La Crosse, while the line below, to Dunleith, has been played out entirely.

RIVER.—The Keokuk started for St. Paul this morning with 60 passengers. The Transit came down from Winona yesterday, with a heavy cargo of wheat.

RAIN.—Full eight inches of rain fell during the raging storm of Thursday night.—The heavy rain extended to St. Paul, and has raised the river a foot and a half.

EXPORTS OF WHEAT FROM FRANCE AND THE UNITED STATES.—The exports of wheat from France for the year ending August last, were 30,000,000 bushels, out of a crop estimated at 200,000,000 bushels. The crop was not more than an average one, and the exports were about 15 per cent. of the product. The largest quantity of wheat ever exported from the United States in one year was 32,000,000 bushels, or 20 per cent. of the growth.

BELOIT COLLEGE.—The catalogue of the Beloit College informs us that there are in that institution 157 students, divided as follows: seniors 8; juniors 8; sophomores 21; freshmen 23; normal students 69; preparatory students 24. The libraries of the college and societies contain about 4,000 volumes, and arrangements are made for the progressive increase of the college library in the future.

"NEVER put off till to-morrow what you can do to-day," said an advising mother to her child. "Well, then, mamma, let us eat the cranberry pie that's in the safe," was the child's precocious reply.

THE House of Representatives of Georgia has passed a bill abolishing public execution.

THE CITY.

BOARD OF COUNCILORS.—An animated meeting took place last night, which resulted in the adoption of an ordinance to repeal an ordinance entitled "an ordinance for the construction of a Horse Railroad in the Second Ward." During the debate on the question, Coun. MCCORMICK stated that the people of the Third Ward were opposed to Horse Railroads in general and a Third Ward one in particular. Coun. BUENING stated that the people of the Second Ward threatened to tear up the rails if laid there.

An ordinance was also passed extending the present dog law so as to compel owners of canines to muzzle their dogs the year round.

Counsilor LOCKWOOD presented the following:

Resolved, The Board of Aldermen concurring, that the City Attorney, under the directions and supervision of the Joint Committees on Railroads, be, and he is hereby instructed to institute such suits and proceedings as may be necessary, to collect from the several Railroad Companies in default for interest on the City Bonds loaned to them, the amount of such interest, and also to institute suits for the foreclosure of the mortgages given to the city by such Railroad Companies respectively, and for the collection of such other security of such Companies as the city now holds for the payment of them, of the interest and principal of the City Bonds issued to them respectively.

Whereas, It is understood to be the intention of the Milwaukee and Watertown R. R. Co. to remove some ten miles of the track from the line of the road lying next to Columbus, and thus transferring the same to the line between Columbus and Madison, thereby lessening the security of the City in a certain mortgage given by the Company on the whole line of their road, from the Junction to Columbus, bearing date March 22d, A. D. 1856. Now, therefore, be it Resolved, The Board of Aldermen concurring, that the City Attorney be, and he is hereby directed to take the proper legal steps to prevent the removal of said track; and that the City Clerk is hereby directed to serve a copy of this preamble and resolution on the proper officers of said Company at the earliest possible date.

Which were adopted.

A HAUL OF BUNKER BOYS.—Last evening the police arrested six of those young scamps known as bunker boys, a select corps of immature rascals, who had been distinguishing themselves by walking into a bakery and eating whatever pies and cakes their hands could reach, with utter indifference to the remonstrances of the old lady who tended shop. It was a precocious illustration of the Dick Turpin zeal which animated them, and not a very pleasant budding of future State prison fruit. Their next highway adventure ended to the entire dissatisfaction of a merchant on East Water Street, who lost several comforters and gloves from his store, and last evening the entire corps de rags were captured and placed in separate cells—a result which seemed in no wise to damp their spirits or voices, for we heard them about eight o'clock, at the station, singing, dancing, spinning yarns, and otherwise "mitigating the gloom," as the immortal widow would say, of the temporary prison.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.—The Teachers' Institute, to be held in this city, during the present week, under the direction of Chancellor BARNARD, will commence on Thursday evening next, December 1st, and continue through Friday and Saturday. It will be mainly devoted to Vocal Culture and Reading, by Professor FRANCIS T. RUSSELL, who is now in Wisconsin, attending our Teachers' Institutes, with an opening address by Chancellor BARNARD, and one or two Lectures, (one on Friday evening) by Professor BUTLER, of the State University. The day exercises will be held mainly in the Seventh Ward High School, and the evening Lectures will be delivered in some larger hall, so as to accomodate those of our citizens, who may desire to hear them.

AUCTION SALE OF SPLENDID BOOKS.—To-night CALEB WALL will sell, at the City Auction Rooms, a splendid selection of books, embracing all the standard authors; Annuals, Albums, beautifully bound Gift Books, very appropriate for the holidays, and immense collections of light reading, bound in every variety of style. We have examined the stock, and unhesitatingly pronounce it not only the largest, but the best ever offered to the public in Milwaukee, at auction sale. Let every one who desires cheap reading or valuable books at a nominal cost, be on hand to-night at 7 o'clock, at the City Auction Rooms, E. Water street.

BOARD OF SCHOOL COMMISSIONERS.—A special meeting of this Board was held last evening, to consider the question of the school-tax levy for the current year. A resolution to close the Public Schools at the end of the present term, unless the Common Council should provide the means to carry them on, was discussed at some length and finally referred to a committee of five, consisting of Messrs. KING, O'NEIL, DEWOLF, HILMANTEL and CULLIGAN, with instructions to report at an adjourned meeting of the Board, to-morrow (Wednesday) evening, at 7 o'clock.

MUNICIPAL COURT, NOV. 28TH.—John Lyon, drunk, &c. Penalty and costs $2,70. Execution issued.

Mary Kanally, larceny of veil, &c. Plead not guilty, and trial had. Sent to county jail 30 days.

Louis Brennan, assault and battery, discharged.

Hannah Rolke and Henrietta Karshoka, larceny. Sentenced to pay a fine of $50 each, and to stand committed until paid or discharged by due course of law. Paid.

ORPHAN ASYLUM FAIR.—The annual festival in aid of the Protestant Orphan Asylum will be held on Wednesday, 30th inst., at Albany Hall. Doors open on Wednesday, at 12 o'clock. Donations for the table may be sent on both days to Albany Hall. Dinner will be served in the Hall, both on Wednesday and Thursday; and the bill of fare includes everything that an epicure could wish for. We hope that all our readers will dine at the Hall to-morrow and next day.

ST. ANDREWS' SOCIETY.—The Annual Festival of the St. Andrews' Society will come off, at the Newhall House, to-morrow (Wednesday) evening. Tickets may be procured at the Confectionery Store of A. C. MORRISON, 192 East Water street. It is hoped that all true sons of Scotia will be present on the occasion.

CONCERT THIS EVENING.—A concert in aid of the West Baptist Church will be given this evening at Albany Hall, commencing at 7 o'clock. The programme is varied and interesting and we are sure our friends will give an entertainment of unusual interest to all. The American Cornet Band will be present and perform some of their best pieces.

DEPARTURE OF BOATS.—The departure of the boats on the Milwaukee and Detroit line, will hereafter be at 3 o'clock P. M., instead 7 P. M., as heretofore. By this arrangement passengers will reach eastern points as quick as by taking any of the earlier lines leaving the city on the same day.

JOLLIFICATION AT WAUWATOSA.—The Republicans of Wauwatosa propose to celebrate the recent victory in this State, by a supper at the Wauwatosa House, a Tuesday evening next, December 6th—tickets 50 cents. They will be glad to see some of our Milwaukee Republicans on the occasion.

WASHINGTON ENGINE CO., No. 8, at a meeting, on last Saturday night, were consolidated, the two sections into which the company had split again united, the company electing all their former officers with one exception.

Well Deserved Praise.

We take pleasure in transferring to our columns, from the News of Sunday morning, the following truly deserved complimentary notice of Messrs. DENISON and PERRIN, Conductors on the Milwaukee and Chicago Railroad. Every Railroad is more or less indebted to its train conductors for the good will of the travelling public, and no class of employees receive so little credit for what is really due them in this regard:

"One of the most responsible posts on a railroad is that of a Conductor, and not one man in fifty fully realizes the responsibility resting upon his shoulders. His duty is to see that his train is on time—everything in order about it—passengers well cared for and conveyed safely to their destination. The good Conductor is always gentlemanly, always attentive, always on the look out, and always at work for the interest of the road on which he is engaged, thereby furthering his own interest. Two just such men are now on the Lake Shore road, running between this city and Chicago. One of them, W. G. DENISON, is well known throughout the State as one of nature's noblemen. He commenced railroading in March, 1848, on the old Western Railroad, running between Boston and Albany, as train baggage man, and held that position for three years and a half, when he was promoted to a Conductor's berth on a freight train, and for two years, till he took a passenger train, made his regular trips without detention or accidents. In the winter of '54 he came West, and was at once engaged as Conductor on the road he is now looked upon as part and parcel of, and run the first train from Chicago to this city, and has continued on that train, running his twelve hundred miles a week ever since.

"The other one of whom we speak, is L. B. PERRIN, and we allude to his history and good standing, not only as a just tribute to his energy, tact, and perseverance, but as a beacon for others to look ahead to, who are now acting lower down the ladder of railroad labor. Mr. PERRIN first began railroading on the Great Western Railway in 1851, taking a train (a little black mule and bob-tailed cart) the first day. For some months he run his train from the gravel pit to the "dump" every fifteen minutes, with the same regularity that has characterized him ever since. His next move was on the Peterboro road, as track inspector: then on the Buffalo and Lake Huron road; then, in '54 on the Lake Shore road, as fence builder. After a short season of fencing, he was engaged as track layer, and acted in that capacity till the summer of '55, when he left track making and took a freight train, and in '56 was promoted to the passenger train he is now on.

We do not know of two finer men, or men better qualified by nature and experience for the laborious and responsible position they hold, than Messrs. PERRIN and DENNISON. They are truly model conductors, and we hope to see them acting as now, till promoted still higher, or till each one owns a railroad of his own. The company are indeed fortunate in having two such gentlemen in their employ."

Milwaukee Matters.

Correspondence of the Madison State Journal.

NEWHALL HOUSE,
Milwaukee, Nov. 23, '59.

Editors Journal:—After spending several days most pleasantly at this house, and becoming thoroughly acquainted with its accommodations, I can most cordially pronounce it a hotel unsurpassed by any west of the Lakes. Messrs. Rice & Kean are among the most skillful and honorable landlords in the country. Their chief clerk, Mr. E. W. Severance, and the book-keeper Mr. J. G. Baldwin, are attentive and courteous gentlemen, who command the highest esteem of the guests. The latter gentleman is recently from New York, and is a worthy acquisition to the "Newhall." This hotel is not only an ornament to the city, but is creditable to the State, both for its immense size and elegant style and finish, and is greatly admired by Eastern and Southern visitors.

During the afternoon I spent a couple of hours in examining the two extensive Saddlery and Harness Establishments of Geo. Dyer & Co., and the Barnes Brothers. These stores are both on East Water street. The former, Messrs. Dyer Co., are both importers and manufacturers of every variety of goods in their line; and in the three or four flights of rooms which they occupy certainly possess a most extensive and valuable assortment of goods; and many articles of their own manufacture are equal, or superior to Eastern fabrics. The Messrs. Barnes confine themselves to importations, and their several rooms exhibit a magnificent assortment of every variety of saddles, and furnishings.

With such extensive wholesale establishments as these in our own State and Commercial Emporium, it would seem to be strange and almost folly, for our country dealers to go East for their supplies, and when acquainted probably they will not.

Mr. C. Adams' Tobacco and Cigar Store, for wholesale and retail business, offers good inducements to trade. He has a fine store and large stock, worthy the attention of limited dealers. OBSERVER

COLDS IN THE HEAD.—As this is the season when these distressing complaints abound we take pleasure in publishing the most sensible receipt from the best authority on the subject. It is worth remembering and practising:

Hall's Journal of Health says, the moment a man is satisfied that he has taken cold, let him do three things: 1st, eat nothing; 2d, go to bed, cover up warm, in a warm room; 3d, drink as much cold water as he can, and as he wants, or as much hot herb tea as he can, and in three cases out of four he will be almost well in thirty-six hours.

If he does nothing for his cold for forty-eight hours after the cough commences, there is nothing that he can swallow that will, by any possibility, do him any good; for the cold, with such a start, will run its course of about a fortnight, in spite of all that can be done, and what is swallowed in the meantime in the way of physic, is a hindrance, and not a good.

"Feed a cold and starve a fever," is a mischievous fallacy. A cold always brings a fever; the cold never beginning to get well until the fever subsides; but every mouthful swallowed is that much more fuel to feed the fever, and, but for the fact that as soon as a cold is fairly seated, nature, in a kind of desperation, steps in and takes away the appetite, the commonest cold would be followed by very serious results, and in frail people would be almost fatal.

These things being so, the very fact of waiting forty-eight hours, gives time for the cold to fix itself in the system; for a cold does not usually cause cough until a day or two has passed, and then waiting two days longer gives it the fullest chance to do its work before anything at all is done.

FIRE.—On Sunday afternoon a fire broke out in a shed adjoining the Brewery of OWENS & Co., in the 3d Ward. The bells sounded an alarm but the flames were subdued before the engines arrived. Great excitement prevailed among the inmates of the shanties surrounding the brewery, who, with a keen appreciation of the danger of their combustible abodes, exerted themselves manfully in arresting the flames.

HORSE DROWNED.—On Saturday morning a drayman drove his horse into the river, at the foot of Tamarack street, to drink. But he must have gone a little too far; the horse soon sank out of sight, and the man saved his life with difficulty. A fence has now been put up at that place.

CALEB WALL wants to employ a very steady young man, for two or three months, who writes a good hand and will apply himself to business. He does not want any fast young man, or any one who is not steady in every way.

PERSONAL.—BRADSTREET, the "Weather Strip Man," has arrived at the Walker House, and we advise every housekeeper to call and examine the merits of this useful article, for keeping the snow, rain, wind and cold out from outside doors and windows.

THE SERMON on the "Irrepressible Conflict," will be repeated at Racine by Rev. N. A. STAPLES on Wednesday evening, (to-morrow,) by particular request.

CITY AND COUNTY ORDERS.—J. S. FILLMORE will buy City and County Orders at the highest market price.

GIFT ENTERPRISE—POSTPONEMENT.—Owing to the late bad weather, the drawing of Mrs. Fox's Gift Enterprise has been postponed until next Saturday evening, Dec. 2d. It will come off, as before announced, at Reis' Hall, Market building.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.—Harper's Magazine for December; The Illustrated London Almanac for 1860; "Phunny Phellow" for Dec. Everything in the periodical and book line that is new, is on hand at 25 Wisconsin St.

TELEGRAPH!

REPORTED BY THE N. Y. ASSOCIATED PRESS FOR THE DAILY SENTINEL.

Arrival of the Vigo.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.

The Vigo, which sailed from Liverpool on the 9th, and from Queenstown on the following day, arrived here this morning. A Berlin dispatch of the 8th, says that it is reported on reliable authority, that at the interview held at Breslin, the Emperor of Russia and the Prince Regent of Prussia, determined not to consent to a revision of the treaties of 1815, nor to take part in any Congress in which England would not be represented.—The last resolution being proposed by Prussia.

GREAT BRITAIN.—The weather continued very stormy, and severe gales had again proved most disastrous to shipping off the coast. Many vessels with their entire crews had been lost, and the packet mail service with the Continent had been greatly impeded.

The Prince and Princess Frederick William had arrived in England, on a visit to Queen Victoria.

The Times editorially criticises the Great Eastern, and throws great doubts on her being able to fulfill all that has been promised for her. The vessel is pronounced defective in propelling power.

The official correspondence between England and Spain declares that she will not hold Tangiers or any part of the Morocco coast that will give her a superiority that would be dangerous to the navigation of the Straits, after a treaty of peace was signed.

FRANCE.—Preparations in France for the Chinese Expedition, continue with great activity. One authority says that 8,000 men will probably take their departure during the last fortnight in December. It is understood that the French and English Governments, which for a moment differed in opinion as to the scale of the joint expedition to China, are now in complete accord; and that the general military basis of their co-operations has been agreed upon. A European force larger than any that has yet been seen in China, and equal to any service that may be required, will enter the Peiho in the Spring. It it asserted that the French on the Morocco frontier, were being decimated by cholera. Gen. Insuf and a Colonel of Zouaves are reported dead, making in all six superior officers who have fallen victims to the disease.

ITALY.—The substance of the reply of King Victor Emanuel, to the letter of the Emperor, is reported to be to this effect: That if the Emperor of the French is bound by the Convention of Villa Franca, the King of Sardinia is also bound by the wishes of his people. The Dritto of Turin announces that the greater part of the Piedmont loan had been subscribed for by the best banking house in Turin.

Arrival of the Circassian.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Nov. 24.

Steamship Circassian arrived last night, bringing Liverpool dates to Saturday, 12th inst., one week later than previously received. The steamship North Briton, from Quebec, arrived out on the 11th inst.

The treaties prepared by the conference at Zurich had been signed upon the 10th, and the plenipotentiaries were to leave for their respective courts on the 12th inst.

The Paris Moniteur says that France and Austria have agreed to promote a Congress of the great powers.

ENGLAND.—Sir G. C. Lewis in a speech at the Lord Mayor's banquet, stated that no formal proposition had been made to England for a Congress of the great powers, and when such a proposition is made the government will deliberate upon its acceptance, on the understanding that the Italians are not to be coerced. Two war steamers and four gun boats have left England for China.

ITALY.—Tuscany has followed the example of the other States of Central Italy and conferred the Regency on Prince Cavagnan. The King of Sardinia, however, under the pressure from France, has refused to grant the Prince permission to accept the Regency.

Nov. 12th.—The Paris Moniteur has an article regretting the action of the Italians in relation to the Regency of Prince Cavagnan.

The Moors have commenced attacking Ceuta.

INDIA AND CHINA.—The mails from Calcutta to Oct. 9th, and Hong Kong to Sept. 25th, have reached England.

The ratification of the American treaty had produced no change in the commercial affairs of China.

Mr. Ward, the U. S. Minister, had gone to Japan.

The Russians had a large naval force at Jeddo, and it was expected that trouble would arise, owing to the murder of three Russians by the Japanese.

Later from California.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28—3 P. M.

The Baltic's advices from California are to the 5th instant, only one day later than those by the overland mail, and are entirely destitute of general interest.

The Baltic left Aspinwall on the 19th, and connected at the Isthmus with the Golden Age, which was detained four hours in the Gulf of Tehuantepec by a severe gale.

The steamer Orizaba, of the Vanderbilt Line, left San Francisco at the same time as the Golden Age, with 250 passengers.

The Baltic brings as freight, 100 cases of silk, worm eggs from China, for Italy and the South of France.

The principal consignees of the specie list are as follows: Wells, Fargo & Co., $332,000; American Exchange Bank, $148,000; A. Belmont, $100,000; Freeman & Co., $48,000

The overland mail from St. Louis, with New York dates to the 18th Oct., reached Gilroy on 4th inst. Nothing of importance had transpired at the Isthmus since the departure of the North Star on the 11th. The steamer Northern Light, of the Vanderbilt Line, with mails and passengers from New York on the 5th, had arrived at Aspinwall on the 15th. The Baltic, which left New York on same day, arrived at Aspinwall on the 12th. The Northern Light had met with an accident to her machinery, at sea, and had also been on fire. The extent of her damage was not known at Aspinwall.

Later from Mexico.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28—3 P. M.

The New York Times publishes a despatch from Mexico, via Panama, which says the conservatives, led by Gen. Gordo, and the liberals, led by Gen. Corronado, met at Tepic (Mexico) about the 8th inst. The conservatives were victorious, killing Gen. Corronado and 400 of his men. The loss of the conservatives is not known, but is supposed to be as great. The liberals fled to Mazatlan. Gen. Corronado had imprisoned H. B. M.'s Consul at Mazatlan, on account of his refusal to pay a second duty on the treasure shipped on H. B. M.'s steamer Calpizo.

Capt. Sidney Greenfall, of the British ship Amethyst, released him, and blockaded the port, seizing two of their ships loaded with cotton. Capt. Stone returned to Sonora with an escort of 200 U. S. troops and 400 civilians.

Destructive Fire.

TAUNTON, Mass., Nov. 28—3 P. M.

A fire broke out early this morning in the confectionary shop of Asa Waterman, and rapidly extended from Wier street to Woodward Lane, causing great destruction to property. Fifteen buildings were destroyed, including Concert Hall. The burnt district extends on the south side of Main street, and embraces the most active and business portion of the village. In the property destroyed, are two clothing stores, two book stores, two drug stores, two hardware stores, two furniture stores, three hat stores, two boot and shoe stores, two jewelry stores, four saloons, two printing offices, two carpet stores, together with offices, groceries, dwellings, &c. Loss estimated at $150,000—insurance $86,000.

Japanese Coming to the U. S.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28—3P. M.

A report, believed to be well founded, prevailed at Aspinwall to the effect that the Japanese Commissioners would leave Yeddo (Japan) on the 22d of February, 1860, for the United States, via the Sandwich Islands, San Francisco and Panama, and that the United States frigate Roanoke, now at Aspinwall, was to be fitted up for their reception, and would convey them to this port.

The Victoria Bridge.

MONTREAL, Nov. 24.

The first train of cars ran over the Victoria Bridge this afternoon. Two of the tubes are not quite completed, but it is expected that the bridge will be fully completed and thrown open to the public about the middle of December.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 28—3 P. M.

The Democratic Convention of Cuyahoga County, stood: Douglas 128; Administration 10. Collector Parks and U. S. Clerk Green, went for Douglas. U. S. Marshal Johnson was voted down in his own Ward.

LATEST NEWS!

BY LAST NIGHT'S REPORT

Affairs at Charlestown.

CHARLESTOWN, Va., Nov. 28—9 P. M.

Saturday and Sunday the town was crowded with strangers and military. Extensive preparations are making for the reception of additional military forces on the approach of the executions. The churches were all taken possession of for barracks, and the sentinels are nightly firing at their imaginary foes, while numbers of citizens narrowly escaped the bullets.

Sunday night the military confidently expected an attack, and sentinels were doubled. No foes appeared, however. How they are expected to arrive is not stated, but as the country is being patrolled for twenty miles around, it must be by the Underground R. R. It is stated on good authority that Gov. Wise has sent spies into Ohio and Pennsylvania, and it is from their reports that large bodies of men were arming and moving towards Virginia, that the military forces are being so largely augmented.

About 700 additional troops have arrived since Saturday, including two companies from Wheeling, so that we have now about 1,500 military under arms.

A letter from Hunterton Co., Pa., states that large bodies of armed men are moving towards Virginia across the North Mountains, supposed to be on their way to Charlestown. These reports cause constant panic; all quiet to-day and arrangements are making for erection of gallows.

From Havana.

CHARLESTON, S. C. Nov. 28—9 P. M.

The steamship Isabel has arrived from Havana. Marquis Serrano, the new Governor General, arrived on the 24th, and was received by a grand demonstration. He had been sworn in, and entered upon the duties of his office. The steamer Moses Taylor was at Havana when the Isabel sailed. The sugar market was firm at an advance of 1-4 per arrobe.

From Utah.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 28—9 P. M.

The Utah mail of the 3rd brings an account of the execution of Thos. H. Ferguson for the murder of Alexander Carpenter.—This is the first judicial execution that has ever taken place in the Territory.

Later from Brownsville.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 28—9 P. M.

Brownsville dates to the 20th inst. are received.

Lieut. Tennison reports that 200 troops and citizens were protecting the town. They were closely besieged, but no attack had as yet been made.

Important Suit Decided.

CHICAGO, Nov. 28—9 P. M.

The case of Geo. C. Bates against the Ill. Central R. R. Co., which has been on trial in the U. S. Court for the past fortnight, involving the right of the defendants to their depot property in Chicago, was decided to-day in favor of the Road. This is the second time this case has been tried with the same result.

A Hoax.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 25.

The report that Governor Packer, of Pennsylvania, had tendered to Governor Wise the services of 10,000 men to guard the line between Maryland and Virginia, is a hoax.—No such tender was made to Governor Wise, nor did he make any such reply as was stated in the dispatch.

WASHINGTON IRVING WRITES NO MORE BOOKS.—In a detailed account of a recent visit of Rev. THEODORE TILTON to Sunnyside—the residence of WASHINGTON IRVING—we find the following interesting statement:

On the parlor wall hung the engraving of Faed's picture of "Scott and his Cotemporaries;" I alluded to it as presenting a group of his former friends.

"Yes," said he, "I knew every man of them but three; and now they are all gone!"

"Are the portraits good?" I inquired.

"Scott's head," he replied, "is well drawn, though the expression lacks something of Scott's force; Campbell's is tolerable; Lockhart's is the worst. Lockhart," said he, "was a man of very delicate organization, but he had a more manly look than in the picture."

"You should write one more book," I hinted.

"What is that?"

"Your reminiscences of those literary friends."

"Ah," he exclaimed, "it is too late now! I shall never take the pen again; I have so entirely given up writing that even my best friends' letters lie unanswered. I must have rest. No more books now."

ANOTHER MAMMOTH BAL-LUNATIC.—Mr. Joseph Danziger, who was disappointed in obtaining a seat in Prof. Lowe's balloon, has set about the construction of a mammoth air vessel, to be called "The Star City." It will be nearly five times the capacity of the balloon "Jupiter," and is designed to carry four passengers, besides provisions and ballast.—In its construction Mr. Danziger designs using a new material, for which he claims a patent. It is called silk rubber, and its virtue consists in its expansive quality, great strength, and economy, enabling the æronaut to dispense with all netting save what little may be necessary to sustain the basket.

Mr. Danziger informs us that he has made several satisfactory experiments with the silk rubber. He expects to complete his balloon in time for an experimental ascension from the public square on the first of next May.—Lafayette (Ind.) Courier.

LOGGING.—An unusually large amount of logging is to be done on Black River and its tributaries during the coming winter. Nine million feet are to be put in on Wedge's Creek, as follows: Price & Spaulding, three millions; Blakeslee & Wood, two millions; Jacob A. Johnson, one million; W. J. Gibson, three millions. Other parties are putting in various amounts, from one to three millions each, and every mill on the river will be stocked to its extent. We estimate that not less than twenty million feet of logs will be put into Black River between now and next Spring. If that don't make lively times before next June, then there is no use in "logs coming down."—Jackson County Banner, Nov. 25th.

AMONG the many attractions, says the Washington States, which the ensuing session of Congress will afford, none will be more novel or interesting than a proposed visit of five hundred veteran editors to the metropolis, to witness Congress in session during the winter. We understand that the Superintendent of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad has made this proposition to them; has offered them a free ride over the road from Wheeling to Washington. The idea is a good one; it will benefit the editors, the road, the city and the country, to say nothing of the original correspondence from Washington which will follow.

Interesting Law Case.

A case of considerable interest, to the profession and the public, occupied the Circuit Court, Judge McARTHUR presiding, during the greater part of last week. It was the suit of E. G. RYAN, a leading member of the Milwaukee Bar, against WILLIAM BARNES, Trustee for the Third Mortgage Bondholders of the La Crosse & Milwaukee R. R., for services rendered in foreclosing the Third Mortgage last spring. For the four months that Mr. RYAN was thus engaged, to the exclusion, as was represented, of all other professional business, he claimed $12,000 as just compensation. The parties in interest having paid him $1,000, but demurring to the additional amount claimed as exorbitant, suit was brought to recover the balance.

The testimony in the case, which went mainly to the value of the services rendered, was somewhat conflicting. On the one hand, seven or eight members of the Milwaukee Bar, including Mr. LYNDE, Mr. BUTLER, Mr. T. L. OGDEN, Mr. S. P. COON, &c., swore to Mr. RYAN's services being worth, in their judgment, from ten to twelve thousand dollars. On the other hand, Mr. DOWNER, Judge HUBBELL, Mr. MARSHALL M. STRONG, Mr. MOSES M. STRONG and others, valued them at sums ranging from one to four thousand dollars. The case was very cleverly managed, on the part of the plaintiff, by Mr. JAMES S. BROWN, while the defence had the benefit of the masterly tactics and forensic abilities of JONATHAN E. ARNOLD, Esq.— The summing up of Mr. ARNOLD, on Saturday afternoon, was pronounced by all who heard it, one of the ablest efforts ever made at the Milwaukee Bar.

The case was given to the Jury, under a clear and impartial charge from Judge McARTHUR, a little after 7 o'clock, Saturday evening, and after being out about twenty-one hours, they came in with a verdict of seven thousand dollars for the plaintiff—thus valuing his services (including the $1,000 already paid) at eight thousand dollars. The verdict did not appear to satisfy either side: the defence thinking it much too high and the other party regarding it as decidedly too low. The case is to be appealed, we learn, on exceptions taken to certain rulings of the Judge, during the progress of the trial. The result will be watched for with interest by laymen, as well as lawyers, as establishing a standard for the measurement of the value of legal services.

The above shows the vote could not have all been out especially in Milwaukee, and no doubt also in other places.—Madison Patriot, (Dem.)

The vote of Milwaukee, though pretty full, was doubtless a thousand, or more, short of the actual poll of our city; but it was much the largest yet cast at a Gubernatorial Election. It needs the excitement of a sharp Presidential contest to draw out the full vote of our city and State, and swell the Republican majority to its proper size. We think that 1860 will make this apparent.

DEPUTY MARSHALS.—JEHU H. LEWIS, the new U. S. Marshal, has made the following appointments of Deputies:

FRANCIS HASEY, of Iowa county, for the County of Milwaukee.
EDWARD F. TABB, Walworth county.
L. LECLERC, Crawford county.
ANSON ROGERS, Rock county.
JOHN CROWLEY, Manitowoc county.
F. A. EDWARDS, Sheboygan county.
FREDERICK S. ELLIS, Brown county.
CARL HABICH, Dane county.
CARLO R. TAYLOR, Green Lake county.

The News says that "others will be appointed as soon as he makes up his mind."

We presume that all the above-named Deputies are "sound on the goose," as Mr. LEWIS has announced that he would have none but Administration Democrats about him. Whether they are any improvement on the former Deputies we cannot say; not having the list of the decapitated officers at hand. But so far as this city and county are concerned, there is general dissatisfaction, especially among the Democracy, who think it hard that with three or four thousand Democratic majority here, there was not one of their number fit to be a Deputy Marshal.

NEW YORK ELECTIONS.—The latest returns make it appear that the Democrats of New York have elected their candidates for Secretary of State, Canal Commissioner and State Engineer, the three leading political offices, by majorities ranging from 200 to 2,000. So much for Senator Seward's Presidential prospects! The Republican majority in that State last Fall, on Governor, was nearly 20,000.—Badger State.

This is the sort of information that the organs of Sham Democracy serve up to their readers. Last Fall, the Republicans were in a minority of over forty thousand in New York, though they elected their Governor by a plurality of 17,000 over the Democratic nominee. This year, the Republican vote is within a few hundred of the Democratic and Know Nothing vote combined, while it is 25,000 greater than the Democratic vote, and 225,000 in excess of the Know-Nothing vote. The Republicans of New York stand relatively nearly 50,000 votes better to-day, than at any previous period since the organization of that party.

THE NEWS ON NEW YORK.—The News disposes of the New York election in this wise:

It will be seen that the Democrats have elected the most important officers, including the Secretary of State, who is considered the head of the ticket. The Republicans, by the aid of the Know-Nothings, succeeded in electing some of the minor officers, which proves that there is no longer any hope for them unless they form a permanent alliance with the Americans, who will only consent to join them on condition that they abandon Seward, and his "irrepressible conflict."

We should like to know how many Democrats would have been elected but for "the aid of the Know-Nothings;" or what hope there is for Democracy in the Empire State without an "alliance" with the Dark Lantern party. At the late election the Republicans beat the Democrats 25,000 votes, which they will make 50,000 next year, under the banner of "SEWARD and the irrepressible conflict."

GREAT DEFICIENCY.—The Republicans have only been in power in the city of New York one short year, and yet the deficiency to meet the expenses of the city amounts to the enormous sum of three millions of dollars!! That will do for one year.—Madison Patriot, (Dem.)

It will surprise the Republicans to learn, from Wisconsin authority, that they have been in power, in the city of New York, for the last year. Their impression is very strong that the Sham-Democracy have the control of the city government, and of course, that this heavy deficit is chargeable to Democratic account.

LA POINTE COUNTY—RETURNS.—By a letter from La Pointe, dated Nov. 18th, we learn that the vote stood as follows:

Randall	56
Hobart	109
Majority	53
Senator—Cox, (Rep.)	94
Meggett, (Dem.)	72
Majority	22
Assembly—Whittlesey, (Rep.)	122
Morris, (Dem.)	54
Majority	68

QUICK.—The trip has been made from Mobile to New York in one hundred hours, via Cairo, Chicago, Detroit, and the N. Y. Central. This is the quickest time ever made between Mobile and New York.

Sailors on Shore.

The sailors of a British fleet of six line-of-battle ships, and many smaller vessels, have already been ashore at Malta, with plenty of money in their pockets, in search of fun. A writer from Malta thus describes them:

"They are to be seen in all directions, in all sorts of grotesque costumes, as if it were carnival time—many in 'long togs,' Jim Crow hats, other in Bell-toppers, with holes cut in them, or wreathes round them; in short, anything different to other people.— Many had been driving about in the very best carriages that could be hired, aping the ladies in driving to shop doors and having goods sent out to their carriages to choose from; driving to the garden of the Cafe de la Reine, having ice-cream and wafers sent to their carriages, making the waiter take one himself and pelting him with the change, and then driving off fanning themselves in the most lackadaisical way. At the opera it was their acting, not that of the performers, that the audience had to attend to. Most that the audience had some extraordinary pets, young pigs with spectacles on, little dogs dressed up, rabbits, monkeys, &c.; these occasionally escaped, and Jack unceremoniously gave chase, climbing in the most extraordinary manner in what appeared to be impossible places.— Pigeons, fowls, and cats that escaped were comparatively harmless; it was the concert arising from the pigs and dogs—varied occasionally with the crowing of some of the cocks that had escaped into the upper boxes —that prevented the possibility of attending to the music. The sailors do not understand Italian, nor are they restrained by any false modesty in letting that fact be known. The demand for an English song was loud and vociferous; many of Russell's were named by the sailors themselves. It was possibly fortunate that the prima donna did not understand English, for some of the remarks and criticisms were not very complimentary.

An old Italian gentleman in the pit took some trouble to translate one of the songs as it was sung. To show the sailors' gratitude, half a dozen bottles of rum were passed to him to drink from. He thought to escape by saying he could not drink out of a bottle. In an instant a dozen shoes were off, and he had willy-nilly to drink out of the heel, raw spirits, which nearly took his breath away, and by way of restoring him, the sailors gave him some hearty slaps with their brawny hands on the back, which shook him fearfully. The old gentleman at last made his escape from his friends, who, as he left, pressed upon him a bottle of rum for his old woman at home. These scenes are pleasingly varied in the theatre, with battles between the sailors and their natural foes, the police, who have a long and standing hatred to each other. If Jack gets the upper hand, the main guard is called in, the result of which is generally that those who have been fighting escape, and some dozen sailors who cannot move, and are totally unconscious from the effects of drink, are pounced upon by the police, who carry them unresisting to the police office. The next morning the sailors, with empty pockets, are brought before a Maltese magistrate, who has about the same feeling for Jack that a cat has for a mouse. The ceremony before the magistrate is very short; neither party understands a word the other says, and it saves much trouble to at once condemn the sailor. Jack accordingly gets a number of days' imprisonment, or is taken to his ship by the police, who receive a pound from Jack's forthcoming pay.

IT IS SAID that the French Army has lost its confidence in Napoleon as a General. An Italian correspondent of The Independent writes that he has the fact on the best authority, from a Captain of the Staff, who related it to him recently in the presence of six other officers, returning, like himself, from Solferino, and who confirmed his statements, which were as follows. "You remember," he said, "that famous order of the day, and the telegram to the Empress after Magenta? He said: 'A division of the Imperial Guard has covered itself with glory! For a whole day it has sustained the shock of forty thousand Austrians,' etc. Now, how do you explain that on the morrow, MacMahon, who had come only at the end of the day, received all the honors of it, and was made Duke of Magenta and Field Marshal?" "Why," said I, "it was on account of the timely help he brought to the victorious but exhausted Guard." "Not in the least," replied the captain, "et voila comme on ecrit l'histoire! I was there, and can tell you what nobody will dare to publish in France, though it is as true as the Gospel.

"When the famous order of the day concerning the Guards became known among the first corps, MacMahon's, a great irritation prevailed, amounting almost to rebellion.— 'Since all the glory is always given to the corps cheri, (they call thus the privileged Guards,) 'let them fight alone! we will not do anything more!' Early in the morning, MacMahon, sharing the anger of his soldiers, went to the Emperor and told him in what state of mind his troops were, charging him with injustice toward those who had, in fact, won the battle, and saved him (the Emperor) from the greatest danger. Napoleon was surprised. 'What have you done,' said he to MacMahon; 'why have you come so late, after I sent you so many orders to come to Magenta?' MacMahon then begged the Emperor to follow him; he showed him on the ground, strewn for several miles with the bodies of dead soldiers, that he, MacMahon, had to fight and overcome the bulk of the Austrian army in order to reach Magenta, and join the Emperor, that but for his timely coming the Emperor was enveloped by the enemy, and, finally, that his Majesty had made the enormous blunder of taking for the whole battle that which he had witnessed, and which was only an episode, of the least part of it! It was then, in order to quiet the murmuring soldiers of MacMahon, that he made the latter Duke and Marshal; but, ever since the egregious mistake of Magenta, there is not an officer or a soldier in the army who has the least faith in the military genius of the Emperor."

THE GRAIN TRADE.—As navigation is now closed, and as a matter of interest to our grain dealers and readers generally, we give below the number of bushels of grain potatoes, &c., shipped from this place since October 8th. We think that Prescott, as a shipping town, will compare favorably with any on the river, of its size, and that Pierce county, though comparatively young, and away up here in the North-west corner of the State, where many people think the season too short to admit of farming successfully, is taking the honors from some of the older counties, both as regards quantity and quality, (if any one doubts the quality of her productions, we refer them to the premiums given her at the last State Fair,) and that in a short time she will become the banner agricultural county of the State. The following, as nearly as we can learn, is the whole amount shipped within the last six weeks:

	bushels.
Wheat	28,530
Oats	15,172
Potatoes	3,275
Cranberries	2,000
Barley	460
Flour, bbls	240

Averaging the wheat at 57 cents per bushel, the oats 18, the potatoes at 20, cranberries at $1,50, barley 50, and Flour $4,00 per bbl., we have the snug little sum of $23,682 48, which is something of an item, and which will be likely to place our farmers in "good condition" for winter.

Our grain dealers have experienced much difficulty in getting their grain shipped, on account of low water, &c.,—had it not been for this, nearly double the above amount would have been sent below. The most of our store houses are full and will remain so until spring, when we trust better facilities will be offered for shipping.—Prescott (Pierce County) Transcript.

DEATH OF WISCONSIN EMIGRANTS.—The St. Louis Bulletin says a company of movers camped on the night of the 14th on the banks of the River des Peres in that county. One of them, PETER BARKER, aged 28 years, died suddenly. The Coroner was called and held an inquest. It appears that death ensued from one of those insidious attacks of congestion of the heart and lungs that have so frequently, this fall, attended chills.— When they left their homes in Wisconsin, the company consisted of twenty-five persons, men, women and children. They have been travelling since last July, taking a roundabout course from Wisconsin to Virginia, and from thence to Missouri, their present destination being the south-west part of this State. During their trip they have lost four of their number. Several of them looked quite way-worn and exhausted—a little girl in particular, who sat near the coffin of her brother, pale and emaciated, the picture of the deepest melancholy.

YOUNG MAN PAY ATTENTION.—Don't be a loafer; don't call yourself a loafer, don't keep loafer's company, don't hang about loafing places. Better work hard for nothing and board yourself than sit around day after day, or stand around corners with your hands in your pockets. Better for your own mind, better for your own health, better for your own prospects. Bustle about if you mean to have anything to bustle for. Many a poor physician has obtained a real patient by riding hard to attend an imaginary one.— A quire of blank paper, tied with red tape, carried under a lawyer's arm, may procure him his first case, and make his fortune.

Such is the world; to him that hath shall be given. Quit droning and complaining, keep busy, and mind your chances.—Ex.

IT may sound like a paradox, yet the breaking of both of an army's wings is a pretty sure way to make it fly.

WAITER'S EPITAPH.—He couldn't wait any longer—so he went.

Agricultural.

IMPORTANT TO FARMERS.—A gardener having occasion to newly paint the interior of his green-house, determined to make a trial of the theory of the absorption of heat by black color, with the view of promoting the maturity of his plants and shrubs by means of a greater quantity of caloric. In the preparation of the paint he used coal tar, that is to say, tar produced by the distillation of coal in the manufacture of gas. This coal tar, besides the advantage of its color, offers considerable economy in painting, being about one-eighth of the price of the material generally used in mixing black paint.

The painting here in question was executed before the setting in of the winter. On the return of spring the gardener observed, with no less surprise than satisfaction, that the spiders and other insects which had infested his green-house had totally disappeared. He, moreover, remarked that a vine, trained on an espalier, which for the space of two years had been sensibly decaying, and which he had purposed to uproot for the purpose of planting another in its place, had acquired such renewed health and vigor as to be capable of producing excellent table grapes.— Having applied his new paint to the props, trellages and espaliers of all his sickly trees and shrubs, as well as those which, though in full bloom, were being devoured by insects, success again crowned his experiment. Catterpillars and snails disappeared as the insects had vanished from the green-house.— The fruits produced by the trees thus treated have elicited the approval and eulogy of purchasers. Similar experiments tried on the Gironde have, it is said been attended by similar excellent results.—The Bulletin.

CURING, SMOKING, AND KEEPING HAMS. —Formerly I tried keeping hams and shoulders in salt, and also in grain, but they would dissolve the salt, or mould in the grain. I then tried keeping them in pounded charcoal, with no better effect. I next tried dried dry ashes; but unless the hams were very dry when put up they would taste of the ashes. I then tried sowing them up in coarse cloth, and whitewashing them several times over, as I had seen them in that condition in market; but they did not keep well—they would either mold, or the lime would crack and the flies get in.

For a number of years I have adopted a new method, and never failed to keep them sweet, and free from mold or flies. I prepare a sack for each ham. A yard square of good sheeting is sufficient for a good sized ham. After the hams are smoked, and before any flies have infected them, I put them up, one in a sack. I take sweet hay and cut it (in a cutting-box) about one inch long, and fill in the sack and around the ham, so that the ham cannot touch the bag. Tie a cord around the open end, and hang them up in the smoke-house, or some cool, dry place, and they can be kept any length of time.— The bag and hay will keep away the flies, and allow the moisture to escape, so they will not mold.

Hams should always be well cured before they are smoked. I have seen several good recipes in the Rural for curing hams. The following is my method, and I have often been asked how I could keep them through the summer and have them of so fine a flavor.

RECIPE FOR CURING HAMS.—To one gallon of water take one and a half pounds of salt, one half pound of sugar, and half an ounce of salt-petre—to be increased in this ratio to any quantity required to cover the hams. As soon as your pork is cold, cut out the hams and pack them closely in your cask. Sprinkle each layer lightly with fine salt, put on a weight, and pour on the brine immediately, and before the juice of the ham has escaped. It will require from four to six weeks for the salt to strike through, according to the size of the hams. It will be necessary perhaps to add a little salt on top of the hams; sometimes, if they are very large, they absorb so much of the salt as to leave the brine so weak it may sour. It would be well to take them up after they have been in a week or two and examine them, and, if necessary, add a little more salt. Great care should be taken not to salt too much, as by doing so you lose the flavor of the ham, and but just enough to keep them should be used. As the ham absorbs the salt from the brine, it should be fed by adding a little salt on the top, and the hams should be well struck through. When the hams are large I take out the flat bone, and cut off the round socket bone with a chisel, leaving always the large bone. With care I never have failed to keep hams sweet.

HOW TO MAKE A SMOKE HOUSE.—Having given you my method for curing and keeping hams, let me add my plan for a smoke house. No farmer should be without a good smoke house, and such a one as will be fire proof and tolerably secure from thieves.— Fifty hams can be smoked at one time in a smoke-house seven by eight feet square.— Mine is six by seven, and is large enough for most farmers. I first dug out all the ground out below where the frost would reach, and filled it up to the surface with small stones. On this I laid my brick floor, in lime mortar. The walls are brick, eight inches thick and seven feet high, with a door on one side two feet wide. The door should be made of wood and lined with sheet iron. For the top I put on joist two by four, set up edgewise, and eight and a half inches from centre to centre, covered with brick and put on a heavy coat of mortar. I built a small chimney on the top in the centre, arching it over and covering it with a shingleroof in the usual way. An arch should be built on the outside, with a small iron door to shut it up, similar to a stove door, with a hole from the arch through the wall of the smoke-house and an iron grate over it. This arch is much more convenient and better to put the fire in than to build a fire inside the smoke-house. Good corn cobs or hickory wood are the best materials to make a smoke for hams. The cost of such a smoke-house as I have described is about twenty dollars.

A NEW BEE-HIVE—ITS ADVANTAGES.— We give the following description of a new bee-hive, which has been patented, with the reasons for its superiority, as given by the inventor in the New York Tribune. It has this merit—it costs little. It is made of a frame of square sticks, say one inch in diameter, in capacity 12 by 13 inches, and 18 inches in height, with a flat board roof projecting two inches each way. The frame is nailed together; the lower girts are placed 1-4 of an inch above the bottom of the posts. The frame is covered with straw sewed together, just as it is in straw hives, with a hoop at the bottom, made of strips of boards one inch thick and two inches wide, nailed together. In this hoop a notch 2 1-2 inches long, 1-3 inch deep, is cut for the bees. Plane all the wood, and use none but clean rye straw. On the roof, over suitable holes, the boxes for storing honey are placed.

The inventor says: "The advantages of this hive over all others that I have used are very material in my view. It is generally conceded that straw hives are the best to winter bees in, not altogether because they are so much warmer, but because they will 'keep dry,' and the frost does not accumulate as in board hives. Every experienced apiarian knows that in wooden hives there is a continual dampness arising, in part from the breath and effluvia of the bees. Not so in straw hives. Straw being of a dry and absorbing nature, the moisture is taken up.

Now, I have learned that straw hives are as much better in winter, especially, in the season of breeding, when we are subject to frequent and sudden changes of the weather, such as damp, chilly nights and hot days.— The temperature of a straw hive is more even; it does not heat excessively in hot weather, nor cool suddenly as do board hives. The natural warmth of the bees is retained, which is particularly conducive to their health and prosperity. Hence there should be no unnecessary ventilation by leaving an open space, as has been recommended by some all around the bottom of the hive.— Especially in damp, chilly weather, bees will breed faster and gather more honey in straw hives than in board hives. That is, according to my experience. One reason for their gathering more honey, probably, is because the young brood comes to maturity faster, consequently there are more laborers in the field in the early honey season. This hive combines all the real advantages of every patent hive that has come to my knowledge, while it obviates all the objections and retains all the good qualities of the old fashioned straw hives."—Prairie Farmer.

CITY AUCTION ROOM.
HOME AGAIN, AFTER BEING ABSENT for nearly a month; have seen no city more promising or inviting than our beautiful City, Milwaukee. Find business in all the cities generally dull, except New York, and dull particularly in all real estate operations. Money is abundant in New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore; in any one of these cities money can be obtained at six per cent. for home securities, but at present they prefer not to invest or loan on Western property; but that is wearing away very rapidly. A much better feeling now exists towards the West than there did six months ago, and I have no doubt in my own mind that in six months or twelve months we shall see a great reaction in all operations in our city, and still a greater one if we will manage to pay up promptly the interest on our city indebtedness. I came home feeling delighted with Milwaukee. I have seen no place to compare with it, or that I would be willing to exchange it for, and I am satisfied in my own mind that we will go ahead and grow more rapidly the next five years, than we have for the last ten years. I am, myself, perfectly contented with Milwaukee. Let us all cheer up. Milwaukee is too important a point to be overlooked. In conclusion, I would say, I am now ready to attend to my Auction and Commission business in the usual way, and all business entrusted to my care will be faithfully and strictly attended to. My Auction Room is very large, and I can store away any amount of Goods.
On my way home through Baltimore, I stopped at Harper's Ferry and obtained one of Capt. Ossawatomie Brown's Pikes. All who have any curiosity to see this instrument of death, call at my Auction Room. CALEB WALL,
City Auctioneer.

CITY AUCTION ROOM.
I HAVE THE FOLLOWING PROPERTY which I want to exchange for Dry Goods, or any other description of Goods:
First—A good Farm in Juneau County, Wisconsin; twenty-five acres under fence and in cultivation; a log cabin, such as we all were accustomed to live in when we first came to this country, twenty-five years ago; a good stream of water running thro' the entire farm; 40 acres of it is heavy timber. A large settlement surrounds the said farm.
Second—I have that large brown house, opposite Post Office on Wisconsin st., which contains about twenty-five rooms and rents for about one thousand dollars.
Third—I have two horses, one perfectly sound, kind and gentle; the other is somewhat foundered; but take the pair together and they make a good team for family use. Also, in connection, I have a carriage, buggy, wagon, sleigh, two sett harness, two side saddles, two men's saddles, three bridles, whip, &c., &c.
Fourth—I have three hundred acres of school land in Marquette County, Wis. This land has been selected, as all other school lands. Now, all the above property I will exchange for Dry Goods, &c., or for any good city property. The said property is free from all incumbrances. CALEB WALL,

PILES! PILES!! PILES!!!
What is it? How Cured?

THOUSANDS OF PERSONS HAVE PILES—suffer for years with the disease—yet few know what it is, or how it is cured. Every case of Piles, whether manifested in the form of external tumors, frequent bleeding, or in violent itching and irritation, depends essentially upon congestion of the abdominal venous circulation. This produces the engorgement, dilation of the veins, formation of tumors, hemorrhages, pain and suffering: and the disease can only be fundamentally cured by medicines which, taken internally, relieve this abdominal venous congestion. Hence, ointments, washes, and even injections, are ineffectual. HUMPHREYS' HOMEOPATHIC PILE SPECIFIC, a simple sugar pill, taken two or three times per day, cures the disease by curing the condition upon which the disease depends. Hundreds have been cured by it, even of the most obstinate cases. All will be promptly benefited by it. Price 50 cents a box.

N. B.—A full set of HUMPHREYS' HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFICS, with Book of Directions, and twenty remedies, in large 3-drachm vials, and morocco case, $5; do, in plain case, $4. Family case of fifteen boxes and book, $2.

These remedies, by the single box or case, are sent by mail or express, free of charge, to any address, on receipt of the price. Address,

ONLY A SHADOW.

She sits by the window high and dreary,
And night is stealing across the park;
She searches, until her eyes grow weary,
The mystery under the deepening dark.

There is an oak in the far-off darkness,
Riseth aloft like a giant old,
And right above, in the dusky nearness,
Frowneth a turret dark and bold.

The shadows fall like heavy fingers
Upon her eyes in the dreary room;
She shuts them—the wasting image lingers
Of all she saw in the growing gloom.

Ah! who is near? what hand in greeting
Has she clasped unbidden in her own?
And her heart, though never so quickly beating,
Is beating in marvel and fear alone.

The hand of the night is very dear to her,
The arm of the night is about her form,
The lips of the night are very near to her,
And the breath of the summer night is warm.

His unseen locks are upon her forehead,
How humanly waving and soft and light—
And a sudden resistless impulse carried
Her lips to the lips of the shadowy night.

She must have been dreaming—she's sitting lonely
Whiling away the dreary hour;
The land is dark, for the young moon only
A crescent of silver hangs over the tower.

She must have dreamed—the world reposes
So silently under the starlight fair;
And—the fairies lift the three white roses
That fell on her hand when she loosed her hair.

CHEATING A COUNSELLOR;
OR,
How Kedagh Geoghagan got his Will Drawn for Nothing.

A few miles from Barnestown, the residence of a famous Anthony Malone and contemporaneous with that worthy, there lived a jolly old squire of the regular Irish school, named Kedagh Geoghagan. This old gentleman, together with a great deal of Irish virtue, contained in himself what his enemies would call downright Irish vices and infamies. Among them he was exceedingly litigious, to which disposition the propinquity of such a convenience as the prime sergeant, was, perhaps, in some degree, an encouragement; be that as it may, the assistance of Malone was often given to extricate his unlucky neighbor out of those scrapes which his infatuation was hurling him into; but his patience and good will were at length exhausted, when, after years of hard service he had to declare himself absolutely ignorant of the color of Kedagh's gold.

This unlucky consummation of his imprudence came about at the very moment when the counsellor's aid was most required. Poor Kedagh had got himself into a dreadful hobble. Some sharp attorney had taken under his protection one of his numerous victims, and the law and equity were together hurling their thunders on his now defenceless head. He knew that Malone would in a few days be going to town to attend term, and that unless his anger were previously depreciated it would be idle to expect help from him. To pay him would be an abandonment of those principles on which, through good report and evil report he had acted for nigh half a century; and pay him he would not—and yet to get from the dilemma without doing so, was a puzzle. He however, at last hit on an expedient which will be seen in the sequel.

The day for Malone's departure had arrived, and he was already in his carriage driving out of his avenue gate when his progress was stopped by a fine herd of cattle turning down in that direction.

"Hallo, my man," shouted the counsellor to the herdsman, "whose bullocks are those?"

"Mr. Geohagan's, your honor," replied the fellow, touching his hat, "that is, they wor, sir, but he sint them to your honor, wid his compliments, and this bit of a note"—at the same time fumbling the misshaped epistle from the recesses of his breeches pocket and handing it to the great man.

"Hum—aye—unforseen troubles—hope to be excused—request a continuation of my services—oh, very well, my good man, present my compliments to your master, and tell him I shall feel happy in using my utmost exertions in his business—drive them on, and deliver them to the herd, one, two, three, ten, I believe, are in, it—'pon my word, a very fine lot of bullocks, and do credit to the feeder, and you may tell your master I said so. Stay, there's half a crown for you to drink my health, since I'll not be below myself—drive on, John."

Next vacation Malone returned home, full of complacent delight at the good news he had to tell his generous client, for whom his splendid talents had procured an unequivocal victory. The morning after his arrival, when taking his usual walk through his concerns, he met his herd, and after receiving his congratulations on his safe return, began to make the natural inquiries regarding his stock.

"Fine weather you had while I was away, Thady."

"Yes, indeed, 'twas delightful, your honor."

"'Pon my word, I never knew it so soft at this time of the year before—an old parliament gentleman of my acquaintance, that was laid up in his bed-room ever since winter, was able to go down all the way to the Cove of Cork last week, it was so mild."

"Dth! dth! think o' that now."

"Yes, indeed, and how is the grass coming on, Thady?"

"I never seen the like; your honor, if you would only jist step down and look at it you'd see, yourself, sure."

"You didn't find Mr. Geoghagan's bullocks too great an addition, I hope?"

"Sir———"

"Old Kedagh's bullock's—those that he sent here the day I went to Dublin. 'Pon my word, Thady, they shame you, they were so superior to any you ever sent off my pasture."

"Oh, he's a very judgmatical feeder, your honor, but, for all that, I would show my herd with his, any day—but as to the bullocks, bedad your honor, myself doesn't rightly understand what you're talking about, at all, at all."

"Why, the bullocks he sent here on the day I went to Dublin—the ten fat bullocks he sent by his own man, Kelly, I think is his name."

"Arrah, the deuce a bullock, begging your honor's pardon, he ever sent here, the old old rogue—they'd bring the murrain or some maugh among us, so they would."

"Old Kedagh tricked me then!" shouted the counsellor.

And so he did. The herd had been waiting an hour at the head of the avenue to intercept him, as we have related, and no sooner was the carriage out of sight by the angle of the road, than, according to his master's directions, he turned the bullocks' heads, and before evening they were browsing quietly in their native pastures, whence they had been called that morning to effect the deception.

It was little wonder that Malone should be deeply exasperated at the trick, so humiliating to him and successful to his outwitter, and just as little that honest Kedagh should take credit to himself for so neat a piece of chicanery, it was in fact a subject of merriment to him for a long time, until some dilemma, similar to that which gave rise to the expedient we have related occurred and compelled him to try and make his peace with his incensed advocate.

The hopeless task was undertaken in the same spirit which characterized his former proceedings. Kedagh took to his bed—was ill—very ill—going to die, in fact. It was not long until an account of his illness reached Barnestown, and fast on the heels of the report followed a messenger from the invalid, requesting to see his dear friend the counsellor.

"Confound the rascal," exclaimed Malone, "his impudence is insufferable—what can he want with me?"

"Oh, your honor," said the afflicted messenger, "he's stretched for death and won't die aisy, if he don't see you and the priest."

"Well, now, for curiosity's sake," said Malone, "I will go over and hear what he has to say; it would be really a pity not to hear Kedagh repenting."

The counsellor arrived, and was shown into the darkest room, where poor Kedagh was waiting his final call.

"You wished to see me, Mr. Geoghagan, I believe," said Malone, in the coldest tone of voice he could assume.

"Counsellor, dear, is that you?" whined the invalid from the middle of the bed in corner.

"Upon my word, Mr. Geoghagan, you may well ask the question with doubt, after the manner you treated me, and used my name."

"Oh, counsellor, dear, sure you would'nt be ripping up old stories on a dying man; God forgive me my sins, but I have a good deal to answer for; forget and forgive, avick; that was your father's way, rest his soul; I knew him well, and many's the time I saw him sitting in his arm chair; stroking your head, and saying, 'Anthony, my boy, you'll never by your father's son, if you desert your friend in distress.' It's my will I'd be talking of avick. I'm afraid the boys'll be quarrelling among one another about the money, when I'm gone, and I want a will that'll hinder them; and who would I get to draw it but yourself—the first lawyer in the three kingdoms, and more betoken, my old friend's son?"

"Really, Mr. Geoghagan, I must try to be excused; my interference with your affairs already—"

"Ah, now, avick machree, why would you be talking about that, and cutting short a dying man's breath; let me tell all first, and then sure, if you're for leaving me, I can't help you. I am going, counsellor dear—going quick—but I'd like to do justice first: so just put in a legacy of £500 now to my dear and valued friend, meaning yourself, avick, and make it so that it can't be broke, now."

"Kedagh—my dear Kedagh—this is so good, so generous—really, I must forget and forgive, now, though to tell the truth, Kedagh, I was angry."

"Ah, Anthony, my darling, that is just like your father—rest his soul—but 'deed I was wrong."

"Kedagh—now—my dear friend—this generosity——"

"Counsellor, dear, I always intended it."

"My dear friend, this is, indeed, a very melancholy duty, and trust me, all my talents can do shall be done for you, to secure your little property."

"Ah, Anthony, my darling, give me your hand—where are you, avick?—I was sure it was in your father's son to be so generous—so now sit down, counsellor, dear, and let us to business, and don't forget the five hundred."

The will was drawn and approved, not forgetting the five hundred; and Kedagh, after uttering a profusion of thanks for what Malone assured him was a will that all the lawyer's in Ireland couldn't break, requested it should be left with him to get copied, after which, when completed, it should be left with himself. Malone of course acceded, and a day was appointed when he should return and receive the sacred trust from the hands of the dying man. The day came, and with it the punctual counsellor, who was no little surprised to find Kedagh out of bed, and much improved in personal appearance.

"I am better, avick," said he, "thank goodness—a deal better, and able to sit up; but sure, who knows how long it will last with all the trouble I'm in. Maybe now counsellor, dear, you could advise me a bit—here's the will, avick—put it up in your breast pocket safe, for a deal depends on that bit of a parcel—but I was talking about the law—it's this way, avick."

And Kedagh proceeded with a long explanation of all the ins and outs of his new troubles, and received from his kind-hearted friend such assurance of assistance as completely satisfied him. From this time forward, Kedagh became better by beautiful graduations of convalescence, until at last he was reported as quite well to his disappointed expectants. His cause was undertaken spiritedly by Malone, and it is needless to say, that it succeeded—the friendship of the counsellor became now as conspicuous as the contrary feelings were formerly, and excited the surprise of all who knew both, which was still more heightened when Kedagh was called to his people at last—by Malone's attending his corpse to the grave as one of the chief mourners, and conducting all the affairs of the funeral. No sooner was our poor hero safely deposited, than Malone announced to the relatives that the will was lodged with him, and collected all of them in his parlor for the purpose of reading the important instrument to them.

All the preliminaries being arranged, the parties seated, sentiments of condolence expressed on all sides, and Kedagh's honesty and goodness boldly asserted by every one, and a defiance hurled at all gainsayers, the will was produced and acknowledged, and handed to Mr. Matthews, Malone's clerk, for perusal. He began, and according as he proceeded and settled with each devisee or legatee, as the case was, "My poor father," blubbered one of the fortunates, and another, in due succession, as they ascertained their luck, the clerk's voice could scarcely be heard among the general din. Malone was, however, listening all the time with that quiet sort of satisfaction which we feel, when we know that hopes certainly are to shake hands; until the clerk had despatched the sentence immediately preceding his part of the will and continued on, as it were, skipping the important sentence.

"Now, now, Matthews, my good fellow," said the counsellor, interrupting him, "do not be so precipitate, pray—go on—in such seaious matters as these, it is very unbecoming to be so giddy—go on, if you please—and to my dear and valued friend—go on, pray—don't you see it?"

"Faith, sir," said the puzzled clerk, looking over the whole document, "I don't find e'er a dear and valued friend in it, from top to bottom."

"Mr. Matthews, you are insufferably stupid, and really this will not do at all; give me the will, sir," and seizing the will from the clerk he looked over and over it, but in vain; the titter could no longer be suppressed; it was too bad.

"Kedagh! Kedagh! you lived a rogue and you died a rogue," shouted the outwitted lawyer, and bolted out of the room, amid the ill-suppressed laughter of the company.

Kedagh, true to the last, copied every line of the well-drawn instrument, but the part containing the legacy; and gained all his ends, and—CHEATED A COUNSELLOR.

AID TO THE
MT. VERNON FUND.
Stuart's "Gold Mounted" Oil Portrait of Washington.
"There is a model mansion on the banks of the Potomac."

SONS AND DAUGHTERS OF AMERICA, throughout its length and breadth, who are desirous of aiding the "Mount Vernon Ladies' Association of the Union" in their noble work—that of collecting means to consummate the purchase, and completely restore and beautify the HOME of our beloved Washington at Mount Vernon—can render valuable service to the cause, by forming clubs from among their friends of 5, 10, 20, or more persons, and remitting, with names, to either of the Vice Regents of Lady Managers of the Association the same amount in dollars, for their beautiful copy of the great original picture by Gilbert Charles Stuart, now in possession of the Boston Athenæum.

The portrait, executed in oil colors, faithfully and accurately representing this chef d'œuvre of Stuart, is cabinet size, and being made tributary to the Mount Vernon Fund, is at once an evidence of the patriotism and taste of the purchaser, besides being a handsome parlor ornament. A favorable opportunity is thus offered to every family in the land, of contributing to this noble Mount Vernon cause by the purchase of this portrait; and no better memorial can be treasured of the great Chieftain and the Mount Vernon object, than such an appropriate and speaking souvenir.

This plan, as ONE of the aids of collecting means, is considered a happy one; and for the tribute of ONE DOLLAR this offering of the Association is assuredly most acceptable.

Parcels of 5, 10, 20, 30, or 100 copies will be carefully put up and sent to any point of address on the receipt of ONE DOLLAR for each picture ordered; thus, five dollars remitted for five pictures; ten dollars for ten; twenty for twenty, &c.

Clubs of ten, twenty, fifty or more persons, can remit to Mrs. Susan L. Pellet, Corresponding Secretary, at Richmond, Va. or any of the officers representing the Mount Vernon interest in other States.

Each of the officers will receive all orders, and have them promptly supplied.

Together with woman's persuasive influence, is added that of the eloquent son of Massachusetts, the Hon. EDWARD EVERETT, whose noble efforts in behalf of the Association, thus far have been crowned with the highest success, he having already contributed, by his own unassisted abilities and masterly eloquence, upwards of $60,000 to the Fund.

N. B.—Please write names legible, as each person forming a club will be published under the Portrait Subscription in the "Mount Vernon Record;" also forward all moneys without being registered.

All Express Companies throughout the country, extending even to California and Oregon, having given the Association the FREE use of their routes, parcels will therefore be forwarded without any charge.

Persons will address and remit to the Vice Regents, or through their Committees and Managers: also, to L. A. Godey, Esq., of the Lady's Book; to S. P. Watson; or DEVEREUX & CO.,
132 South Third street, Philadelphia.

GOLD-MOUNTED OIL PORTRAIT OF MR. EVERETT.

A faithful and accurate photographic picture of this gentleman, is now ready for delivery. It is beautifully executed, with appropriate emblems of Mount Vernon in a gold arabesque border.

Clubs from 5 to 100 solicited, and forwarded the same as the Washington Portrait—One dollar for each picture ordered. DEVEREUX & CO.,
132 South Third Street.

A BLOODLESS VICTORY!!!
1,000,000 BOXES SOLD OF MOREHEAD'S
MAGNETIC PLASTER

THIS ENORMOUS QUANTITY OF this Invaluable Remedy has been purchased by citizens of the United States during the short time it has been before the public. The reason for this extraordinary success is simply in the actual truth and value of the article. No one buys the MAGNETIC PLASTER without becoming its friend. It performs all that is promised, and carries with it its own recommendation. Truly this is a Victory—peaceful and bloodless—but we believe not less glorious than the triumphs of war, with its train of carnage and desolation.

The MAGNETIC PLASTER is undoubtedly the Greatest Strengthener and Pain Destroyer that Science has yet discovered. If you put this Plaster anywhere, if Pain is there, the Plaster will stick there until the Pain has vanished. The Plaster magnetises the Pain away, and PAIN CANNOT EXIST WHERE THIS PLASTER IS APPLIED.

Rheumatism, Lameness, Stiffness, Weakness, Debility, Nervousness, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Coughs and Colds, Pains and Aches of every kind, are IMMEDIATELY RELIEVED, and, with a little patience, PERMANENTLY CURED, by the magical influence of the MAGNETIC PLASTER. It is the simplest, surest, safest, pleasantest and cheapest remedy in existence. Its application is universal—equally to the strong man, the delicate woman, and the feeble infant. Its use is agreeable, and without annoyance or trouble. Its price is within reach of all—rich or poor; all may have it, and all should have it who are sick, and suffering in any way.

FARMERS and PLANTERS should always be supplied with the MAGNETIC PLASTER. It will be the Good Physician in any household, ready at all times and at instant notice.

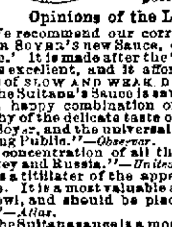

Put up in air-tight tin boxes. Each box will make six to eight plasters, and any child can spread them. Price, twenty-five cents per box, with full and plain directions. D. C. MOREHEAD, M. D.,
Inventor and Proprietor, 19 Walker St., N. Y.

SOYER'S SULTANA SAUCE.
For Hot or Cold Dishes of all Kinds.

THIS MOST DELICIOUS and appetising Sauce was invented by the renowned "SOYER," on his return from the Crimea, and since his decease is manufactured by CROSSE & BLACKWELL, London, from the original recipe. The manufacturers simply ask for it a trial, convinced that it must add to the already large consumption, and that it will prove itself unequaled, either as a stimulant to the appetite or an aid to digestion.

Opinions of the London Press

"We recommend our correspondent to try Monsieur Soyer's new Sauce, entitled the 'Sultana's Sauce.' It is made after the Turkish recipe; its flavor is excellent, and it affords considerable aid in cases of SLOW AND WEAK DIGESTION.—The Lancet.
"The Sultana's Sauce is savory, piquant, and spicy; a happy combination of flavors and essences worthy of the delicate taste of a Sultana, the genius of a Soyer, and the universal patronage of a discriminating Public."—Observer.
"A concentration of all the piquant resources of Turkey and Russia."—United Service Gazette.
"As a titillater of the appetite this Sauce stands alone. It is a most valuable adjunct to Fish, Flesh, or Fowl, and should be placed on every dinner table."—Atlas.
"The Sultana sauce is a most delicious zest."—Morn Chronicle.

Richardson's Irish Linens, Damaks,
DIAPERS, &C.—CONSUMERS OF RICHARDSON'S LINENS, and those desirous of obtaining the GENUINE GOODS, should see that the articles they purchase are sealed with the full name of the firm, J. N. RICHARDSON, SONS & OWDEN, as a guarantee of the soundness and durability of the Goods.
This caution is rendered essentially necessary, as large quantities of inferior and defective Linens are prepared, season after season and sealed with the name of RICHARDSON, by Irish Houses, who, regardless of the injury thus inflicted alike on the American consumer and the manufacturers of the genuine Goods, will not readily abandon a business so profitable while purchasers can be imposed on with Goods of a worthless character.

(ESTABLISHED 1778.)
SOLE IMPORTERS,
No. 338 Broad Street, New York.

THIS DELICIOUS TONIC, ESPECIALLY for the use of the Medical Profession and the Family,
Possesses those INTRINSIC medicinal properties, [Tonic and Diuretic] which belong to an OLD AND PURE GIN.
The business of manufacturing spurious Gins, and offering them as beverages, under the titles, "Aromatic," "Cordial," "Medicated," &c., has become so common that the public are justly suspicious of nearly everything that is offered under similar form, and the trade has thus been brought into disrepute. It has remained for our house (established in 1778) to supply the pressing popular need, and to inaugurate a new era in the history of the Trade. We trust that our established reputation—founded upon eighty years of experience—abundantly vindicates our claim to public confidence.
N. B.
A comparison of "Bininger's [Old London Dock Gin" with others bearing similar names, will establish its superiority, and make other Caution unnecessary.

CHICAGO, Nov. 26th.—Receipts: 3,776 bbls flour, 13,263 bush wheat, 32,041 bus corn, 2,293 bus oats, 2,163 bus barley.

The Press & Tribune says:

The cold weather, and the probability of a speedy close of navigation, drove shippers out of the market this morning, and prices of spring wheat declined 1½@2c. The transactions, however, were very limited, there being but little disposition to operate. About 37,000 bushels of all grades were sold at $1 05 for No. 1 red; 90c for No. 2 red; 85@87c for No. 2 Spring, and 75c for rejected. In flour there was a somewhat firmer feeling, but buyers were cautious, and sales show no material improvement. About 1,500 bbls were sold at 5 75 for choice white winter, 4 25@4 70 for spring extras, and 3@3 10 for superfine. The demand for new corn was quite limited, and the market declined 4c, with sales of about 10,000 bus at 42@43c for new No. 1; 38c for new rejected, 40c for ear corn; and 50c for old No. 1. Oats in good demand and firm, with sales at 31@31½c for No. 1 in store, and 35c in bags on track.—Rye and barley quiet and steady. Highwines ½c lower—sales at 21½@22c. Alcohol steady at 45c. Timothy seed in good demand at 2@2 14. A small lot of Hungarian grass seed was sold at 75c. Hides more active, but unchanged.

The weather being cold and clear, it was more favorable for pork-packing, and both live and dressed hogs have advanced 10@15c. The buoyancy in the Cincinnati market, as well as a more active demand here for mess pork and other products, has doubtless contributed towards the advance. Dressed hogs sold at a range of 4 75@5 50—the market at the close being quite bare. Live hogs sold at 4 20@4 50 for good to heavy—packers and shippers competing for the best lots.

In provisions, we have but little to report. There is a demand for mess pork at $14, but it is generally held at $14 50. Cut meats are scarce, and in demand at 7½c for sides and 5½c for shoulders, loose. For the Baltimore trade, 2,000 pcs sides and shoulders were contracted, the prices of which are kept private. Tallow is in good request, with sales of prime at 10½c. Lard quiet.

MILWAUKEE DAILY MARKET.

MONDAY EVENING, Nov. 28th.

FLOUR—The market has been pretty steady to-day, and firm, but not active. Sales 126 bbls "Mazomanie" Spring Extra at $4,65; 50 bbls "Madison City" do at $4.50—both lots in store.

WHEAT—The market opened extremely dull, shippers being deterred from buying by the unfavorable change in the weather, and prices declined 1@2c; but subsequently the market regained a little strength after the receipt of the New York report. Sales 1,200 bus choice Extra Club at 96c (at least 1c above the market); 1,000 bus No. 1 at 89c on the track; 200 bus Club delivered at 93c; 350 bus do at 91c; 175 bus No. 2 at 80½c; LATER: 700 bus No. 1 on the track at 89c; and 700 bus No. 2 at 87c.

OATS—31@32c.

BARLEY—Dull. We quote Wisconsin at 50@58c for No. 2 to No. 1.

CORN—New shelled 50@55c; old 65@70c.

RYE—Quoted nominally at 60c.

GRASS SEED—Timothy $1,87@2,12½ for good to prime.

POTATOES—Scarce, and bring 50@60c.

EGGS—Selling at 13@14c by the barrel.

HIDES—We quote green 5@5½c; green salted 5½@6½c; dry salted 10@11c; dry flint 12@13½c.

CRANBERRIES—$3@3,25 per bushel.

MARINE INTELLIGENCE.

MONDAY EVENING, Nov. 28th.

COLD WEATHER AND NAVIGATION.—Since Saturday it has been freezing briskly and last night was decidedly the coldest of the season, though not having a thermometer out we do not know how the mercury stood.—A very few days of such cold weather, if it is as much colder in the latitude of Mackinac now than here, as it usually is, would close the Straits and put an abrupt stop to navigation. Indeed some of the captains of sailing vessels that have left here for Buffalo within the past few days considered it quite doubtful whether they would be able to get through to Lake Erie. The American Transportation Co's steamers, with the exception of the Iowa, which leaves this port to-day or to-morrow, and two others loading at Chicago, are all either below or on their last trips down. The Company have, we believe, made arrangements to bring the cargo of one of their propellers now on her way up, through by Railway from Detroit.

Last year, if we are not mistaken, the Northern Transportation Company's propeller Michigan, Capt HOPKINS, which arrived December 5th, was the last steamer of the season through from the lower lakes, and the last sail vessel was the barque Hans Crocker, arriving December 5th. The last clearance by sail for below was the schooner Republic, which left here for Buffalo Nov. 25th with a cargo of wheat.—There are, we believe, five propellers yet expected to arrive here; the Mendota, of the N. Y. Central Line; the Plymouth, of the Western Transportation Company, and three of the Northern Transportation Co's boats—all due within a week.

☞ The schooner Clyde, bound down from Chicago, arrived here to-day in a leaky condition, heavily loaded with grain. She proceeds no farther at present, as it will be necessary for her to go into dry docks. The captain reports losing his big anchor in the Straits during the recent storm.—Detroit Trib., Friday.

A NEW STEAMER TO TAKE THE PLACE OF THE U. S. S. MICHIGAN.—The New York Courier & Enquirer states that Chief Engineer KING has, by order of the Secretary of the Navy, proceeded to Erie, to report upon the machinery of the U. S. iron steamship Michigan, which was built at Pittsburgh, Pa., in 1841-2, and again set up and fitted for service at Erie in 1844, it being said that the present vessel is leaky and otherwise unfit for service, and that a new one to replace her will probably be put on the stocks at no distant day. The Michigan is of 580 tons measurement, and carries one gun. By the terms of the treaty of peace with Great Britain, however, more guns than that—four, we think—may be mounted on national vessels put in commission on each lake by either government.

If there is to be a new steamer built for the Government service on the Lakes, it is suggested that the pre-eminence of Buffalo in ship-building entitles her yards to the contract.

DESTRUCTION OF DOCKS.—The great gale of the 20th, which proved so disastrous to the shipping on Lake Huron, swept away every dock between Point aux Barques and the St. Clair River, in many instances carrying off considerable quantities of fish, shingles, lumber, and other merchandize piled upon them. The losses were serious, and the inconvenience to the many small towns along the Lake shore will be severely felt.

VESSELS PASSING DETROIT during the 48 hours ending Friday noon.

UP—Thursday: Propeller Bay State; schooners H Rowen, Cresola. Friday: Str Michigan; propellers Marquette, Neptune, Dunkirk; schooners Humboldt, S B Pomeroy, E B Taylor, Col Fairchild.

DOWN—Thursday: Barks Clayton, De Soto, John Sweeney; schooners Flying Cloud, John S Miner, Tartar, W B Ogden, S H Lathrop, Cuyahoga, Clyde, Cortlandt, Belle Sheridan, E C Roberts, Persian, S L Noble. Friday: Propellers Mohawk, Acme, Wenona; bark Seneca; brig Banner; schooners Arcadia, Mountaineer, Arrow.

Weather dark and cloudy, with strong SE breeze.

During the 24 hours ending Saturday noon the following vessels passed:

UP—Prop. Wisconsin; barks Adriatic, Gladiator, sch. Zephyr, W. A. Chisholm, Rebecca.

DOWN—Brig Mariner; schooner W. H. Craig.

Wind blowing a gale from the west; weather pleasant.

THE GALE AT DETROIT.—The hurricane which swept over this city with such violence on Friday night appears to have been widespread. The Detroit Tribune of Saturday evening says:

In the storm which raged so furiously last night, a number of craft broke loose from their moorings and floated about at the mercy of the winds and waves.

The old steamer Sultana, broke away from her fastenings near one of the steam saw mills above the city.—She was driven against two wood scows, which were both sunk by the shock.

The schooner Zephyr broke loose and swung round against the steamer May Queen, carrying away the whole of her bulwarks and rail on one side.

We learn that several of the fleet weather-bound at the mouth of the river, got aground during the night by getting too near the beach.

LIST OF VESSELS passing through the Welland Canal. The following vessels passed the Port Colborne Lock from 4 o'clock P. M. on the 23d till four o'clock P. M. on the 5th of November, 1859:

Bound West—Nov. 23rd none; on the 24th; schooners Echo, Condor, Leader, J A Hope; on the 25th; propeller Granite State; schooner Return.

Bound East—Nov. 25th schooners S J Holley, Delos De Wolf, T V Avery; on 24th: schooners Gen W Scott, A J Reed, E S J Bemis, J G Beard; on 25th: propeller Akron; schooners John Weeden, H J Jones, Ontonagon, Traveler.

THE BRIG CONCORD.—The brig Concord, which had the fearful collision with the General Taylor a year ago, and upon which Capt. Jones was subsequently shot down by deputy U. S. Marshal, Tyler, now lies sunk in the basin of the Sault Canal, laden with iron ore, where she has lain four or five weeks. She will be unloaded and raised as soon as navigation is closed.—She ran against the timbers at the end of the pier, which drove her anchor through her, and in a sinking condition she reached the spot where she lies.—Detroit Advertiser.

☞ The steamer Michigan arrived from Buffalo last evening and goes immediately into winter quarters, after having made during the present season fifteen round trips between Green Bay and Buffalo without meeting with an accident. She is deserving of a rest and a new dress.—Detroit Trib.

GOVERNOR VALVES,

CAUTION TO INFRINGERS.

Patent issued in the United States, Nov. 5th, 1859. Reissued, Jan. 11, 1854. Second Patent, March 6th, 1857. Patented also in Great Britain and the Canadas, June 6th, 1851.

This improvement consists in making regulating valves to open with a rapidly increasing ratio of opening, by increasing the width of the opening inside in the valves—or by accelerating the opening motion of the ordinary valves in use—or by combining both, an ad width of opening, with accelerated valve motion. My patent Valves and Governors are so arranged as to give the resistance to the piston's motion, (or retard of the engine,) the power to open the valve just the exact amount of aperture necessary to counteract that resistance; and from the aperture, by the admission of equal amounts of resistances, notwithstanding that the action of the governors continually increasing in its effects.

I therefore reverse the action of valves combined with governors, as heretofore used. And as this effect can be produced by many different mechanical devices, (apparently not similar, but really identical with my improvement,) by which infringers have imposed upon the public, I therefore caution and request all persons interested, to examine carefully all alleged improvements in valves or governors, to see if the application of this truth or principle, first discovered and applied by me, is not involved in their arrangements;—and thereby prevent a fraud upon the purchaser and inventor. Both of which are at present in use, annoyed by their piratical depredations. H. H. BRIGHTMAN, Agent, Milwaukee.

WINCHESTER'S GENUINE PREPARATION OF THE

HYPOPHOSPHITES

OF LIME AND OF SODA,
(Made from the Formula of Dr. J. F. Churchill,)
FOR THE PREVENTION AND CURE OF CONSUMPTION!

THE SUCCESS OF THIS NEW REMEDY, (discovered by Dr Churchill, of Paris,) is obtaining the most UNBOUNDED POPULARITY throughout Europe and the United States. It is a purely SCIENTIFIC PREPARATION, and acts with INVARIABLE EFFICACY in all stages of Pulmonary and Nervous Diseases.

This Remedy has not only a curative effect, but will, if used wherever there exists a suspicion of the disease, PREVENT ITS DEVELOPMENT, and thus act as a preservative with regard to Consumption, just as vaccination does with regard to small pox.

What the Medical Profession Say.

"In no instance have I found the Remedy to fail."—Dr. Churchill.

"I have used your preparation of the Hypophosphites with the most happy effect."—C. Fisher, M. D., Lyndville, Ill.

"I have been astonished in witnessing the good effects of the Hypophosphites. The statements in your pamphlet are not at all exaggerated. My patient was just entering the last stage of tubercular consumption."—S. Moses, M. D., Beaver Falls, N. Y.

"They exert an important remedial influence over the tubercular disease by improving the nervous strength and invigorating the nutritive functions."—Dr. W. E. Rest, Morristown, N. J.

"I have derived more satisfaction from the use of your Hypophosphites than from all other forms of medication combined."—Dr. Geo. W. Maris, Columbus, O.

"If, on the earliest appearance of the symptoms, the patient takes daily about ten grains of the Hypophosphites, he will speedily find himself in the enjoyment of such health as he, perhaps, had never known in his life before."

"Winchester's Hypophosphites are unexceptional in their preparation."—Am. Druggists' Circular.

"Mr. Winchester is worthy of all confidence and devotes himself enthusiastically to these preparations in all their variety of combination."

Prepared strictly by Dr. Churchill's method."—D. Meredith Reese, M. D., New York.

"LOWELL, O., July 5, 1859.—I have had several cases given up by attending physicians who are now exempt from all the symptoms of pulmonary disease.—I have used the Remedy in my own case, with decided success. It was regarded as hopeless by physicians and friends, and even by myself, under the old treatment. I am now able to ride, in attending the sick, as many miles, perhaps, in a day, as any other physician in the country."—W. F. Clark, M. D.

"The Hypophosphites are most appropriate Remedies in large class of affections resulting from loss of nervous force."—Boston Medical and Surgical Journal.

Dr. Churchill's Work on Consumption,
IS NOW READY.

The Hypophosphites may be used with incurable success in Chronic Bronchitis, Asthma, Dyspepsia, and in all "Nervous" Disorders.

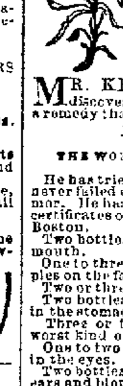

Make no Delay!

Consumptives, in any stage of the disease, should resort immediately to the use of the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda. "Winchester's Genuine Preparation" (in simple syrup), in extra large bottles, is "chemically pure"; is the combination proposed by Dr Churchill "for general use"; and is prepared according to his original Formula.

For sale, Wholesale and Retail, by HENRY FESS, Jr., Milwaukee, who is authorized to supply THE TRADE at New York prices.

For sale at Retail by J. M. ALCOTT, and by all prominent Druggists.

ROXBURY, Mass.

DEAR MADAM:—The reputation of the Medical Discovery, in curing all kinds of humors, is so well established, by the unanimous voice of all who have ever used it, that I need not say anything on the subject, as the most skillful physicians and the most careful druggists in the country are unanimous in its praise.

In presenting the Medical Discovery to your notice, I do it with a full knowledge of its curative powers, in relieving all, and curing most of the diseases to which you are unfortunately so liable. That most excruciating disease to an affectionate mother, is cured as if by a miracle; your own temper is restored to its natural sweetness, and your babe from short and fretful naps to calm and sweet slumbers; and the Medical Discovery becomes a fountain of blessings to your husband and household.

NURSING SORE MOUTH,

In the more advanced stages of it extends to the stomach, causing

DYSPEPSIA

which is nothing but canker on the stomach; then on the intestines and creating a sinking, gone feeling, and an indifference even to the cares of your family.

Your stomach is

your food distresses you, and you can only take certain kinds, and even of that your system does not get half the nourishment it contains, as the acrimonious fluid of the canker eats it up; then your complexion loses its bloom and becomes sallow or greenish, and your best day is gone. For want of nourishment your system becomes loose and flabby, and the fibres of your body become relaxed. Then follows a train of diseases which the Medical Discovery is peculiarly adapted to

CURE;

Palpitation of the heart, pain in the side, weakness of the spine and small of the back, pain of the hip-joint when you retire, irregularity of the bowels, and also that most excruciating of diseases the

PILES.

How many thousands of poor women are suffering from this disease and pining away a miserable life, and their next door neighbor does not know the cure. I wish to impress on your mind that good old proverb, "an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." In the

you have both the preventative and the cure, with this great and good quality, that it will never, under any circumstances, do you an injury. Yours truly,
DONALD KENNEDY.

GREAT WONDER
Of the Nineteenth Century,
PROFESSOR WOOD'S
HAIR RESTORATIVE.

SAYS THE ST. LOUIS, (MO.) DEMOCRAT: Below, we publish a letter to Dr. Wood of this city, from a gentleman in Maine, which speaks glowingly of the superior merits of his hair tonic.—Such evidence must have its effect, when coming from a reliable source. If certificates are guarantees of truth, the Dr. needs no encomiums, nor useless puffery from the press:

BATH, MAINE, Jan. 20, 1858.

Professor O. J. Wood & Co:

GENTLEMEN: Having my attention called a few months since to the highly beneficial effects of your hair restorative, I was induced to make application of it upon my own hair, which had become quite gray, probably one-third white; my whiskers were of same character. Some three months since I procured a bottle of your hair restorative, and used it. I soon found it was proving what I had wished. I used it about twice a week. I have since procured another bottle, of which I have used some. I can now certify to the world that the gray or white hair has resumed its natural color, and I believe more soft and glossy than it has been before for twenty-five years. I am now sixty years old; my good wife at the age of fifty-two, has used it with the same effect.

The above notice I deem due to you for your valuable discovery. I am assured that whoever will rightly use, as per directions, will not have occasion to contradict my statements. I am a citizen of this city and a resident here for the last fifteen years, and am known to nearly every one here and adjoining towns. Any use you may make of the above with my name attached, is at your service, as I wish to preserve the beauties of nature in others as well as myself. I am, truly, yours, A. C. RAYMOND.

Baltimore, Jan. 23, 1858.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor Wood—Dear sir: Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1854, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to answer as the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure. FINLEY JOHNSON.

The undersigned, Rev. J. K. Bragg, is a minister in regular standing, and pastor of the Orthodox Church at Brookfield, Mass. He is a gentleman of great influence and universally loved. WM. DYER.

Brookfield, January 12, 1858.

Professor Wood—Dear Sir: Having made a trial of your Hair Restorative, it gives me pleasure to say that its effect has been excellent in removing inflammation, dandruff and a constant tendency to itching with which I have been troubled from my childhood; and has also restored my hair, which was becoming gray, to its original color. I have used no other article with anything like the same pleasure or profit.

Yours truly, J. K. BRAGG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large, medium and small; the small holds ½ a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion and retails for $3 a bottle.
